Court told couple had turbulent relationship littered with rows

JAILED FOR BEATING LOVER TO DEATH

MANSLAUGHTER: Hussein Abu

By Michael Cox

redbridge@yellowad.co.uk

A MAN has been given a seven-year prison sentence for manslaughter after beating his girlfriend to death at her flat in Ilford.

Hussein Abu, 37, of Whitechapel Road, Whitechapel, pleaded guilty to manslaughter at the Old Bailey on May 21 and was sentenced at the same court the following day for the death of 26-year-old Sannah Javed after an incident at her flat in Green Lane on the evening of December 2, 2014.

At 11.15pm that night police officers were called to her address following reports that a woman had collapsed.

When they arrived, they found Abu in an agitated state. He initially told the officers that Sannah had collapsed while sitting on her bed, but he subsequently offered two alternative versions of events.

Sannah was taken to King George Hospital, Barley Lane, Goodmayes, where she died shortly after

KILLED: Sannah Javed

12.30am on December 3. Following a post-mortem examination on December 6, it became apparent that Sannah had sustained a number of internal and external injuries.

Home Office pathologist Dr Ashley Fegan-Earl concluded that some of these injuries were in keeping with a third party assault.

Abu was arrested on December 6 and charged the following day.

The court had heard that at the time of her death Sannah had been in a turbulent relationship with Abu for a number of years and their relationship had been littered with domestic rows.

By December 2014, Sannah and Abu were living apart.

Detective Chief Inspector Tim Duffield, of the Met's homicide and serious crime command, said: "The police investigation exposed Hussein Abu as a violent and controlling man, a person who, after attacking his partner, was prepared to lie in an effort to escape justice.

"Abu had ample opportunity to admit his guilt earlier but chose to put Sannah's family through the further ordeal of a criminal trial.

"I can only hope his conviction helps her family begin to come to terms with their loss."

Reach out for tickets to see the Magic of Motown

CELEBRATING 50 years of UK number one hit singles, the Magic of Motown is coming to town with its all-new Reach Out 2015 Tour and we have eight pairs of tickets to give away to see the show at the Cliffs Pavilion, Southend, on Saturday, June 20.

The Magic of Motown 2015 Reach Out Tour brings to the stage 36 chart toppers back-to-back in one critically-acclaimed production.

Direct from the USA, The Magic of Motown promises five-star performances that will authentically revive the style and sophistication of everyone's favourite musical legends.

This year the show will include more number one hits than ever before, including chart toppers from the Temptations, Four Tops, Jackson 5, Stevie Wonder, Marvin Gaye, Lionel Richie and The Supremes, in a two-hour spectacular.

As well as dazzling dance moves and glittering costumes, the authentic sound of the original stars will be recreated in a spectacular production that celebrates its 12th year on tour.

"Sixties classics give way to present-day masterpieces from Lionel Richie and Diana Ross," says show producer Michael Taylor. "Sadly, many of the original singing legends are either no longer with us or no longer touring. The Magic of Motown is the nearest you'll get to authentically capturing their incredible musical legacy in a live show."

Andre Lejaune, male lead in the show, adds: "Come and celebrate 50 years of number one hits. With the Reach Out 2015 Tour, the magic of Motown is truly coming to town."

For further information and tickets for the show call the Cliffs Pavilion box office on 01702 351135 or visit www.southendtheatres.org.uk.

STORE workers are taking part in a charity race to raise funds in the battle against cancer.

More than 20 women from Highams Park Tesco, in Hale End Road, are competing in the 5km run, The Race for Life, in Trent Park, off Cockfosters Road, Enfield, on Sunday, June 14, from 11am.

Known as the Highams Park Pink Ladies, the team hopes to raise more than £500 for Cancer Research UK.

Mother-of-two Jo Hammond, 33, will be joined by her mother, Eve Smith, who underwent chemotherapy for breast cancer in 2012.

She said: "I am looking forward to the race, hopefully the sun will be shining."

"The branch has a large group of girls going, so the day will be a good laugh."

"It will certainly help boost morale."

The team, aged from 19 to 50, are holding a pink day in the store on Saturday, June 13.

Funds have been raised at cake sales throughout this month.

Artist offers his designs on possible future for shops in the high street

A NEW project encouraging independent businesses to get into high street shops has been launched in Romford.

Dutch artist Kevin Smeeing is testing his idea at the Quadrant Arcade in South Street, with the Romford Contemporary Arts Programme.

He is looking at ways of filling up a vacant shop that he has been given in the arcade.

Kevin, 26, who is studying for a masters degree in design products at the Royal College of Art, wants to investigate whether a shop that has "multiple uses" will give independent groups a chance to be represented on the high street.

He said: "For me this project is for people who always wanted a space on the high street but could not afford one. Pop-up shops are only a very temporary solution. My project is looking for an alternative to that."

He wants to attract a variety of groups aimed at all ages, including entrepreneurs who wish to test their business ideas, as well as community organisations.

According to Kevin, this is a socially engaged initiative that relies upon the local community, as he vowed to "make it work for the people of Romford".

Sarah Walters, creative programme manager for the Quadrant Arcade, said: "Independent businesses are important for the economy as a whole and we need to support people to test out their idea."

"We are hoping that the project will act as a catalyst for people to set up their own businesses so that we can support them and hopefully one day come back into the arcade."

The project runs until June 12 and is called The Future of the High Street.

Anyone interested in filling Kevin's shop space should contact him on kevin.smeeing@network.rca.ac.uk.

THRILLER: Abarth's sporting 595 Competizione range for the Fiat 500 has been given a major boost

Hot hatch gets even hotter

By Mike Torpey

A FRESH level of performance and technology has been introduced to Abarth's sporting 595 Competizione range with a boost in power to 180bhp and extra kit.

It means stuff like a throaty Record Monza exhaust system, 17-inch alloy wheels with titanium finish, Brembo brake system and red brake calipers are all standard features.

That's in addition to leather sports steering wheel, Sabelt sports seats, Xenon headlights, rear parking sensors and aluminium pedals.

And options include leather sports seats, electric glass sunroof, Interscope audio system with four speakers and two tweeters and several alloy wheel, body colour and stripe kit choices.

Previously offering 160bhp, the new 595 Competizione benefits from a 20bhp boost in power, giving the model a 0-62mph time of 6.7 seconds and a top speed of 140mph.

Despite the lively performance figures it can still return a potential 48.7mpg fuel economy on the official combined cycle.

The new hatchback is the first of the new 2015 model year cars to reach the UK and will be followed by a cabriolet version, available to order later this month. Both come with manual or automatic transmission.

A new colour choice see Campovolo Grey replaced with Officina Red as a no-cost option.

Pricing pitches the Abarth 595 Competizione at £19,890 for the hatchback and £21,890 for the cabriolet version.

Abarth's UK chief Gerry Southerington said: "Abarth's constant striving for enhanced performance has allowed us to introduce this more powerful version of our popular 595. The new, uprated engine, along with the race-bred braking system, lowered sports suspension and Record Monza tailpipes form the basis of a thrilling car to which customers can add their own unique touches."

BIG SAM BOWS OUT - SEARCH ON FOR BOSS

West Ham United

Newcastle United 2
West Ham United 0
Brian Jeeves reporting from St James' Park

MANAGER Sam Allardyce parted company with West Ham United after relegation-threatened Newcastle United comfortably brushed aside his woeful Hammers at St James' Park to secure their place in the Barclays Premier League next season.

This news came of little surprise to most people connected with the Boleyn ground outfit, the fans relationship towards their boss has always been somewhat frosty.

The club now begin the search for a new man to take the hotseat with David Moyes, Slaven Bilic and Steve McLaren, newly sacked from Derby, among the names currently being suggested as a possible replacement.

Hammers arrived in the north east without any kind of consistency.

Despite producing a decent display the week before against Everton at Upton Park, it was an all too familiar late goal that cost the east Londoners dearly. Nevertheless, the Hammers were determined to end their campaign with a flourish.

The situation was desperate for relegation-threatened Newcastle. The Magpies hadn't tasted victory since Aston Villa's visit to the north east in late February. And following a dis-pointing defeat at QPR the equation was very simple for John Carver's men – equal or better Hull City's score against Manchester United or drop into the Championship.

St James' Park has been far from harmonious of late. Poor form coupled with the Geordie supporters' unremitting resentment towards owner Mike Ashley and Carver only added to a raucous but distinctly edgy atmosphere.

It was their side who made the bolder start. Emmanuel Riviere's low drive fizzed across the face of Adrian's goal after a sweeping move down the right involving Papiss Cisse and Moussa Sissoko. Soon after Riviere was again troubling the Hammers, this time sending an acrobatic scissor-kick into the side netting after Daryl Janmaat had centred.

The Magpies continued to dominate. Janmaat zipped an effort just off-target with Adrian at full stretch, but when West Ham finally sprung forward, Tim Krul did well to block from Stewart Downing. Skipper Fabricio Coloccini almost added a second for Newcastle with an audacious volley after Colback and Janmaat had fashioned the opening.

The Hammers had found their feet. Cresswell's teasing cross had Krul scurrying, but drifted past an upright, while at the other end Riviere fluffed his lines after finding some space inside the visitors' box. And the home side passed up another glorious opportunity when Janmaat's free header was wayward after Jack Colback had drove in from the left.

As the half drew to a close, Col-back sent another effort the wrong side of the woodwork, and with the scores also still level at Hull, Newcastle's players received a subdued reception as they left the field for their half-time cuppa.

The mood deteriorated further when Colback teed up an open goal, but neither Cisse nor Riviere were on hand to benefit. But within minutes St James' Park exploded into life. Gutierrez picked out Sissoko with a pinpoint cross and the French midfielder beat Adrian with a thumping downward header.

The Newcastle fans were now in a frenzy, greeting every accurate pass and crisp tackle in the same manor of a goal, in stark contrast the travelling contingent from east London voiced their displeasure when Allardyce replaced striker Enner Valencia with Morgan Amalfitano.

Skipper Fabricio Coloccini almost added a second for Newcastle with an audacious volley after Colback and Janmaat had fashioned the opening.

Vurnon Anita should have sealed the result for the home side after picking the pocket of Cresswell and racing the length of the field. But only found Adrian's outstretched hand. But when Jonas Gutierrez unleashed a deflected angled drive, the Spanish keeper could do very little to prevent Newcastle all-but securing their safety.

Gutierrez was rumoured to be playing his final game for the Magpies. The player has cemented his place in Geordie folk law after bravely fighting testicular cancer before resuming his career. His celebration showed just how much he and the fans meant to each other.

The St James' Park party was now in full swing, referee Martin Atkinson's whistle confirmed Newcastle had avoided the drop.

The drama didn't end there, with Newcastle fans staging an "occupation" of St James' Park in another protest against owner Ashley.

After the game a reflective Allardyce said: "I knew it was coming. I've no problem. I've had a discussion with the owners. I wasn't going to sign a contract and we both agreed it was probably the right time to move on."

An upbeat Carver said: "It's been a rollercoaster of a season."

Conference South Concord Rangers have moved quickly to tie down no less than eight members of the squad to new contracts.

Steve King, Danny Glozier, Jack Lampe, Sam Collins, Gary Ogilvie, Joe Gardner, Lewis Taaffe and skipper Tony Stokes have all agreed new deals with the Beach Boys.

Chairman Anthony Smith told the club's official website: "Positive talks were at an advanced stage with other members of a squad which just missed out on the play-offs and retained the Essex Senior Cup."

Smith also confirmed that new boss Adam Flanagan has identified a number of new targets for his first year in charge of the Canvey-based side.

A charity game between Southminster & Norton and Southend United Legends in aid of Essex Air Ambulance ended in an entertaining 5-5 draw at Burnham Ramblers Leslie Field ground.

Peter Taylor's Blues Legends fought back from 5-1 down to rescue an unlikely draw. Chris Tuttlebee hit four and Billy Warner added another for Southminster, with Andy Edwards, Tes Bramble, Ben Abbey (2) and Mark Rawle on target for the Shrimpers.

The match raised £1,860. Organiser Mike Edwards told Yellow Sport: "I'm over the moon with the money raised. We had more than 300 people in attendance, 13 legends and Peter Taylor involved in the game itself. It was great to see past and present Shrimpers Dan Bentley and John White in attendance along with Simon Royce and Mervyn Cawston."

Final heartbreak for Highams Park U16s

Junior Football

Stanway 2 Highams Park 1
Essex County Schools FA Alan Child Under 16s Trophy Final
STANWAY School completed a rare Essex County Schools FA treble when they claimed the Alan Child Under 16s Trophy with victory over Highams Park.

The north Essex-based school won the Alf E Wood Under 14s Jubilee Cup in 2013 and then scooped the Robert Cook Under 15s Cup last season.

The scene was set for a titanic battle between the two schools who had fought their way past the best of their counterparts at Under 16s level.

The weather conspired against them, with a downpour flooding the chosen pitch at Wadham Lodge, necessitating a switch to a 3G surface.

Stanway began playing against the wind and rain, making it very difficult to get out of their own half, with their opponents using the conditions to press high up and apply pressure from the start.

As the game progressed Stanway settled down and got the ball on the ground, managing to make a few breaks into opposition territory.

Both teams had few chances and it became a tactical battle in midfield, George Barron and Max Booth sparring with their opposite numbers.

This would be key to the eventual outcome, although a rare mistake at the back led to Conor McLaughlin having to clear off the line.

Highams Park went close again from a couple of corners just before the interval and went in at the break disappointed that they had not scored.

The second period gave Stanway the advantage of the wind at their backs, but they struggled initially to make use of this as Highams Park came out like a team possessed.

They were relentless in their approach to close down Stanway, who were forced into mistakes.

Stanway regained their composure and started to work their way back into the game by using the flanks as Ryan Clampin and Will Bray tormented the opposition full-backs.

The game swung from one end to the other, with Highams Park switching to a more direct style, although Stanway stood strong and stuck to their plan of playing through the midfield.

With 20 minutes remaining, Stanway won a free-kick which Highams Park failed to clear and, when the ball fell invitingly to Josh Chapman, he rifled the ball into the back of the net to make it 1-0.

Stanway continued to press and the Highams Park defence began to look tired. From a corner Sam Clark got beyond the back line and neatly tucked the ball past the keeper, only for the goal to be disallowed for offside.

Substitutions by Highams Park reinvigorated their resolve and they began to gain ground.

With 10 minutes to go a free-kick again caused problems. This time Stanway were unable clear their lines and they fell to their knees in despair as Highams Park equalised.

Both teams went agonisingly close with goal-line clearances required at both ends of the pitch.

The decisive moment came with two minutes to go from a corner.

Samir Rhaiti clipped the ball to the near post and pressure from the Stanway attackers caused a defender to knock the ball agonisingly into his own net.
